Our website uses cookies and similar technologies to improve functionality, recognise you and to customise your experience. You can reject and block cookies in your browser settings.

2. Information we collect from you

We collect information when you purchase something or use our services for instance for a quotation. This includes visit to our websites or corresponding with us.

In particular:

- We keep information you give us directly such as contact details (including name, email, address and telephone number)
- If there is an incident, we may need to log information about it.

- If you engage with us online via our websites our cookies and similar technologies will capture your IP address, your location, and record how you use the site or app to help improve it and improve your user experience, where your browser settings or permission allows for this.
- If you post information online about us or provide feedback, we may keep a record.
- If you contact us directly and complain or give feedback, or enter a competition, we will record details and all related information such as emails, letters.

3. How we use information and the legal basis

We are allowed to use your data only if we have a proper reason to do so such as:

- To fulfil a contract we have with you;
- When it is in our legitimate interest;
- When you consent to it; or
- To comply with the law.

A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your data. This involves us making an assessment of when we can rely on our legitimate interests. For more information on this assessment contact us please.

We have set out below how and why we may use your personal information and the legal basis we rely on. This is also where we tell you what our legitimate interests are.

When you buy something from us, or sign up to our iTG Pro-Active Support, or enter a competition we run, we use your information to fulfil our contract with you.

We take information to communicate with you, check your identity, take payment, and provide products and services, including awarding loyalty points if you are a iTG Pro-Active Support member.

To run our business and pursue our legitimate interests, we use your information.

Our legitimate interests include keeping our records up to date, fulfilling our legal, compliance and contractual duties, working out which of our products and services may interest you, improving our site and apps, and services, developing new products and services, and telling you about them and conducting market research.

Further details of our legitimate interests:

To run and promote our business, we use your information:

- To provide and improve our products and services, including Pro-Active Support, and to respond to you if you contact us.
- To record support calls and communications, including incoming and outgoing calls and emails, for staff training, quality improvement purposes and establishing facts.
- When we monitor iTG websites, social media platforms such as Facebook and Twitter and online services including our mobile app and responses to email marketing. If you post comments online or in other media we may capture this information, contact you, and use it to improve our products and services.

- To run competitions and promotions and track which offers seem of interest to you.
- To understand you better as a customer by analysing your transactions and other information you provide to us or which we learn through your interactions with us.
- To send you emails including offers tailored to your perceived preferences where you are a iTG Pro-Active Support client and your preference settings permit this.
- To contact you where you provide us with feedback or pass this data to a third-party business partner of ours or yours for action in connection with IT support.

To prevent, investigate and/or report fraud, terrorism, misrepresentation, security incidents or crime, including where we are required to do so by law we may:

- Monitor iTG Support accounts and review, record call centre communications and emails.
- Use other organisations to check the validity of the credit or debit card details you use to pay (for further details see “Data sharing” below).

To comply with law, assess and uphold legal or contractual rights and claims, and for monitoring, auditing and training on compliance matters:

- We keep records and pass your data to our insurers when necessary (for further details see Data sharing below).
- We monitor, and record call centre communications, including incoming and outgoing calls and emails.
- We may verify your identity.
- We keep records to comply with health and safety legislation, including accounting for the number of individuals on our premises and logging accidents.

We may, if you give us consent

- Send you electronic marketing, including promotions and offers, in relation to our products and services if you are an iTG Pro-Active Support client you can subscribe or unsubscribe from our marketing communications at any time.
- Use cookies or similar technologies on the website, app and in marketing emails, including analytic cookies.
- Use data for other purposes where we explain that purpose when we ask for your consent.

When you give consent, you are able to withdraw that consent at any time by contacting us, for instance by emailing us at sales@itg.uk.com. If you do so we can only continue to use your data if another legal basis applies, such as when we’re required to do something by law.

Nevertheless, you have an absolute right to opt-out of direct marketing at any time. You can opt out of marketing by selecting “unsubscribe” in emails

When the law requires us to process your data we will do so. This can include

- Legal, compliance, regulatory and investigative purposes, including for government agencies and law enforcement.
- When you exercise your rights under data protection legislation, including when you ask to subscribe or unsubscribe from our marketing communications.

5. Data sharing

For some activities iTG uses third party service providers, when these service providers ask for customer data from you we may share information with them.

We use third party providers for the following services:

- Email spam filtering
- Sending promotional offers
- Customer feedback surveys
- Anti Virus scanning and detection
- Security software
- Insurance
- IT hosting, including the provision of applications and website hosting
- Payments' processing to enable you to pay by credit or debit card

If our business is to be integrated with another business or sold, your details would be shared with our advisers and any prospective purchaser's advisers. Your information will be passed to the new owners and you would be notified.

Personal data may be shared with government authorities and/or law enforcement officials for the prevention or detection of crime, if required by law or if required for a legal or contractual claim.

6. International transfers

Sometimes we may need to send or store your data outside of the European Economic Area (India as we have an office in this location). For example, to follow your instructions, comply with a legal duty or to work with or receive services from our service providers who we use to help run your accounts and our services.

If we do transfer information outside of the EEA, we will make sure that it is protected by using one of these safeguards:

- Transfer it to a non-EEA country with privacy laws that give the same protection as the EEA. Some countries have been deemed adequate by the EU.

- Put in place a contract with the recipient that means they must protect it to the same standards as the EEA or use other mechanisms and measures to achieve adequate protection. We also may use the Standard Contractual Clauses published by the EU.
- Transfer it to organisations that are part of Privacy Shield. This is a framework that sets privacy standards for data sent between the US and EU countries. It makes sure those standards are similar to what is used within the EEA.
- Binding corporate rules. These are internal rules adopted by group companies to allow international transfers of personal data to entities within the same corporate group located in countries which do not provide an adequate level of protection.

For our group of companies member iTG Websight Technologies in India, who has restricted access to some data to provide us with development and IT support and maintenance services, we rely on contractual measures.

7. Cookies and similar technologies

Our website, apps and marketing emails use cookies and similar technology. This includes information on how to adjust your browser settings to accept or reject cookies.

8. Data retention

We keep your data to enable us to fulfil our contract with you or to provide services, whilst you are an active IT support, or software or web development or host a website with us, where required by law or to protect legal rights.

We always look to keep your data for the minimum time in line with data protection principles and our processes. For example, we keep:

- Information on iTG PAYG Support and iTG Pro-Active Support clients.
- Records of payment information in line with tax law and audit requirements.
- Customer feedback and correspondence with our support teams for up to 6 years afterwards, depending on the nature of the interaction and any applicable law, such as health and safety. This enables us to respond to any questions or complaints.
- Information to maintain records according to rules that apply to us.

If you unsubscribe from marketing communications we keep a record of this request indefinitely to ensure we do not send you direct marketing again.

We may keep your data for longer if we cannot delete it for legal, regulatory or technical reasons.

9. Your rights

You have rights over your personal data.

You can:

- ask for a copy of your information;
- ask for information to be corrected;

Digital Integration Specialists

- ask for information to be erased or deleted;
- ask for us to limit or restrict processing;
- object to us processing your data, in particular where we use the data for direct marketing, including profiling for direct marketing purposes. The right to object does not apply if we must process the data to meet a contractual or legal requirement;
- ask us to send you a copy in a structured digital format or ask for us to send it to another party.

Some rights, however, may be limited. We may be obliged by law or regulation to keep information. We must respect other people's privacy as well, which means we may need to redact or remove information where it includes personal data about someone else, even if it is connected to your data. On occasion there may be a compelling legitimate interest to keep processing data.

If you want a copy of your data, to object to how we use your data, or ask us to delete it or restrict how we use it or, please see 'Contact details' below. To process a request from you, we may need to confirm your identity to ensure we're accessing the right data.

You have a right to complain to an EU data protection authority. This can be where you live, work or where the matter occurred. In the UK, the authority is the Information Commissioner's Office (the "ICO").

10. Contact details
